

UK Government's Energy Technology List (ETL)

In May 2015, COOLNOMIX was included in the UK Government's Energy Technology List (ETL), making it eligible for tax benefits. The ETL is a directory of energy-efficient products that meet specific criteria set by the government, encouraging businesses to invest in technologies that reduce energy consumption and carbon emissions. COOLNOMIX's inclusion in this list signifies its effectiveness in enhancing energy efficiency, particularly in air conditioning and refrigeration systems. This recognition not only validates COOLNOMIX's contributions to sustainable energy solutions but also provides financial incentives for businesses to adopt its technology, thereby promoting broader implementation of energy-saving measures.

